Kindlt refer to my uploaded resume for details on education and work experience.

1. Tell us a little bit about yourself?

Making a final career change either in Taxation or Investment sector. Worked before in External audit (cumulative six years), Internal audit (cumulative two years), Logistics (cumulative two years, full scope includes from office coordinating shipment to warehouse involvement) and basic accounting (cumulative two years). Done one case on fraud investigation during my time in internal audit. Did and lead XBRL in my previous audit firm. Left External audit industry as wanting a final career change and same time hit with Covid-19 pandemic hence doing freelance at the moment. Will be seating for CFA Level One examination this November 2021 in Singapore. There are gaps in between my career is due to my father had stroke so at that time need to take leave often to take care of him hence audit would not be suitable as it is time consuming requirement. He has since recovered and my Mother is taking care of him full time.

2. Why do you want this job?

To enhance my career in Taxation and further strengthen the knowledge in the area of Tax.

3. What are your greatest professional strengths which is NOT the standard answer found on any job portal, such as you are fast learner, hard worker, etc?

Straight to the point, analytical and meticulous.

4. What do you consider to be your weaknesses?

Over analytical at times as wanting to do the job well.

5. What is your greatest professional or academic achievement?

Uncover a fraud during my time in internal audit without any guidance or knowledge.

6. Tell us about a challenge or conflict you faced, and how you dealt with it?

Per point five. While in my daily course of work checking the events quotation and payment from Client, I discover the cheque does not address directly to my ex-company, but the event quotation was address directly to the company. When I asked my than ex sales manager on the payment update (without letting him know that the cheque which he accidentally file in the event folder.), he said to me still chasing for the payment. I than proceed to report this issue in my weekly report meeting to the Managing Director as I report to him directly. Checked upon the Bizfile and calling the Client directly and discover that actually the ex-sales manager secretly opens his own event management company and wanting to earn extra commission. Although the ex-sales manager had been a good mentor teaching me on the process and the workings pertaining on the resort operation and at times treats me meals in the resort (non-material amount), but I had to make the hard decision of informing to my ex managing director as he is the one, I report directly to and this "overcharging" incident does not benefit and not transparent to the company.

7. Where do you see yourself in five years?

Establish a foothold in either the area of Taxation or Investment (which ever job offer comes first).

8. Why are you leaving your current job? (if applicable)

9. What are you looking for in a new position?

Knowledge and challenge.

10. How would your boss and co-workers describe you? (if applicable)

Analytical, "go to guy", "information from him confirm is correct"

11. How do you deal with pressure or stressful situations?

Deep breathing exercise.

12. How do you get to know us?
